San Pedro family makes wines in an artisan way in Laguardia, Rioja Alavesa since 500 years ago. The cellar today is over 200 years old, and it is located inside the town of Laguardia, eight meters deep, under the streets of Laguardia where motor vehicles are prohibited. This allows for optimum conditions for the aging of wines, perfect temperature and humidity, constant all year long, silence and tranquillity. This is one of the few old cellars in Laguardia where they still make wine. It is divided into 4 caves, made by hand.
